Beschreibung:

Government statistics and forecasts from leading economic institutes indicate that Germany is currently showing little (if any) economic growth and needs to strengthen its competitiveness. Banks will not be able to provide the additional funds required for the decarbonisation and digitalisation of the economy entirely on their own in the future. It is therefore essential to further develop capital market-based financing in Germany. The German government has introduced several good initiatives aimed at providing capital to companies across all stages of their lifecycle. These initiatives need to be developed further.
